

COMUNE DI POSITANO

Provincia di Salerno

Città Romantica

Dear Sirs,

This is it finally we are opening the doors of our History to the modern world.

Our Villa Romana is going to give us an exceptional artistic and historic dignity, Making Positano an extraordinary place, not only natural, but also cultural.

The excavation, which began in 2003, today give us the concrete testimony of the importance that Positano has played in illo tempore, at that time, giving us tangible proof, like nowadays, that it was a privileged destination for the restoration of the mind and body.

We worked side by side to bring to light this invaluable treasure, that is today the historical-cultural heritage of each of us.

The opening of it will bring considerable resources, considering the high operating cost.

The amount of the proceeds arising from the Ticketing is in the process of quantifying, as each visit will have a limited number of people. An increase for our budget to which we must cope, ensuring the necessary resources.

Going against our strongest convictions, we wanted to establish the tourist tax to face the opening of this wonderful treasure.

We apologize to all of you and all the guests of the accommodations in our city for the inconveniences created, especially for the incidence that the tax exerts on bookings already acquired.

In any case, as a tangible demonstration of our innate hospitality, from November to March the tax will not be applied, and just confirming our sympathy to the tourist accommodation, we will guarantee facilities to all guests who wish to visit the Villa in the aforementioned period.

Our daily commitment is directed towards the continual growth of our city: today Positano gives the world an " ancient corner of its own home ", a good of indispensable value for us and for future generations.

I welcome the opportunity to offer you the best regards and best wishes for a good job.

The Mayor of Positano

Michele De Lucia
